BLUENOSE WINS CUP AS FORD LOSES TOPMAST

Gloucester, Oct. 26.—The Canadian defender Bluenose of Lunenburg won the third race today in the series for the Halifax International Trophy which goes each year to the champion of the North Atlantic Fishing Fleet. Her victory over the American challenger Henry Ford today gave her two out of the three races in the series, and the fishing schooner championship. Making a game fight to catch up with the Bluenose, which was leading on the last leg, the foretopmast of the Ford went overboard. This killed the last fighting chance she had to win the race and cup. At the turn to windward on the last leg the American boat gained seven seconds on the Canadian and might have worked into the lead had not the accident occurred which carried away her foretopmast.

Washington, Oct. 26 (By International News Service).—The appeals of the foreign steamship lines from the decision of Federal Judge Learned Hand at New York, sustaining Attorney General Daugherty's ruling that no ships, foreign or American, carrying liquor, could come within American territorial limits, were filed with the United States Supreme Court. The records in the case heard by Judge Hand were brought up by the French, the Canadian, Anchor, Oceanic and International Navigation lines.

Taxicab Driver Victorious in Pursuit of Team of Runaway Horses

People along Beacon street today were thrilled by the unusual sight of a taxicab in pursuit of a team of runaway horses.

They witnessed the sensational stopping of the runaway, just in time to save the life of a child who had fallen in the path of the frightened horses.

"Nothing to make a fuss about," said William Brothers of No. 55 dates street, South Boston, the taxi cowboy who did the trick.

TEAM THUNDERS BY.

Brothers was driving his taxi along Beacon street near Berkeley street when he heard the pounding of hoofs behind him. A moment later the two horses, dragging a heavy truck, thundered by.

Brothers stepped on the gas and got ahead of the team. He boldly crossed the path of the horses in an effort to head them off. They swerved and continued their flight.

At Clarendon street Brothers managed to get ahead of them again. He drove up to the curb, leaped out of the cab and managed to get on the truck.

A block away five children were

SEARCHING SQUADS TO FOIL SMUGGLERS

New York, Oct. 26.—Re-establishment of customs "searching squads" for the purpose of enforcing the Volstead Act and curbing activities of smugglers of jewelry, narcotics and other contraband was announced today by the United States Customs Service.

Prisons on various ships smuggled contraband valued at more than $2,500,000 into the country during the year, customs officials said. The smuggled goods included 150,000 bottles of whiskey.

The fearsome hoodoo that had pursued the Henry Ford, the American challenger, ever since the races began, got her spin today.

On the fourth leg of the race, when the American was creeping up on the Lunenburg schooner, her foretopmast broke off half-way up. Her jib topmast fluttered into the water. Bluenose was then a mile in the lead. The heart-breaking race was over then. But, with the bad pole sticking out like a flagstaff, the crippled Ford kept going.

RECEIVES CUP AND RESE.

Captain Angus Walters went ashore to meet an enthusiastic crowd of admirers to receive the cup and rese.

Captain Clayton Mering went ashore to hurry to his home, where his wife lay sick and his son dying. He himself will have to undergo an operation within the week. The American skipper said his boat in a physical condition that would have caused the average man to stay in bed.

According to the correspondent of the Halifax Herald, Bluenose went into the final run for the trophy with a badly damaged keel.

Ford had hauled down her stay-sail at 1:40 and it was three minutes later that the foretopmast broke off. She kept on, however, with the bad pole. Men went to steady the wavering topmast but worked in vain.

BLUENOSE TAKES IN SAIL.

At 1:50 Bluenose took in her stay-sail. She had spun in her foretopmast a few minutes before.

Ford kept right on the port tack for a long board of shore. Bluenose

At third mark:

Ford . . . 1:32:45

was within five miles of the fourth mark at 1:35, and well ahead of the Ford.

Up to the time of the loss of her foretopmast by the Ford, the race had been the best and most exciting of the series.

Thousands of spectators afloat and ashore cheered the boats as they came off from their docks to proceed to the starting line.

FORD'S KILNER FIXED.

A diver had examined the keel of the Ford before she went out today. He found it badly bruised and also took occasion to fix the rudder, which gave some trouble yesterday.

Captain Almon Mallow, known as one of the greatest "drivers" in this port, sailed with Captain Mering.

Bluenose was the first to start down the harbor in row of her tug.

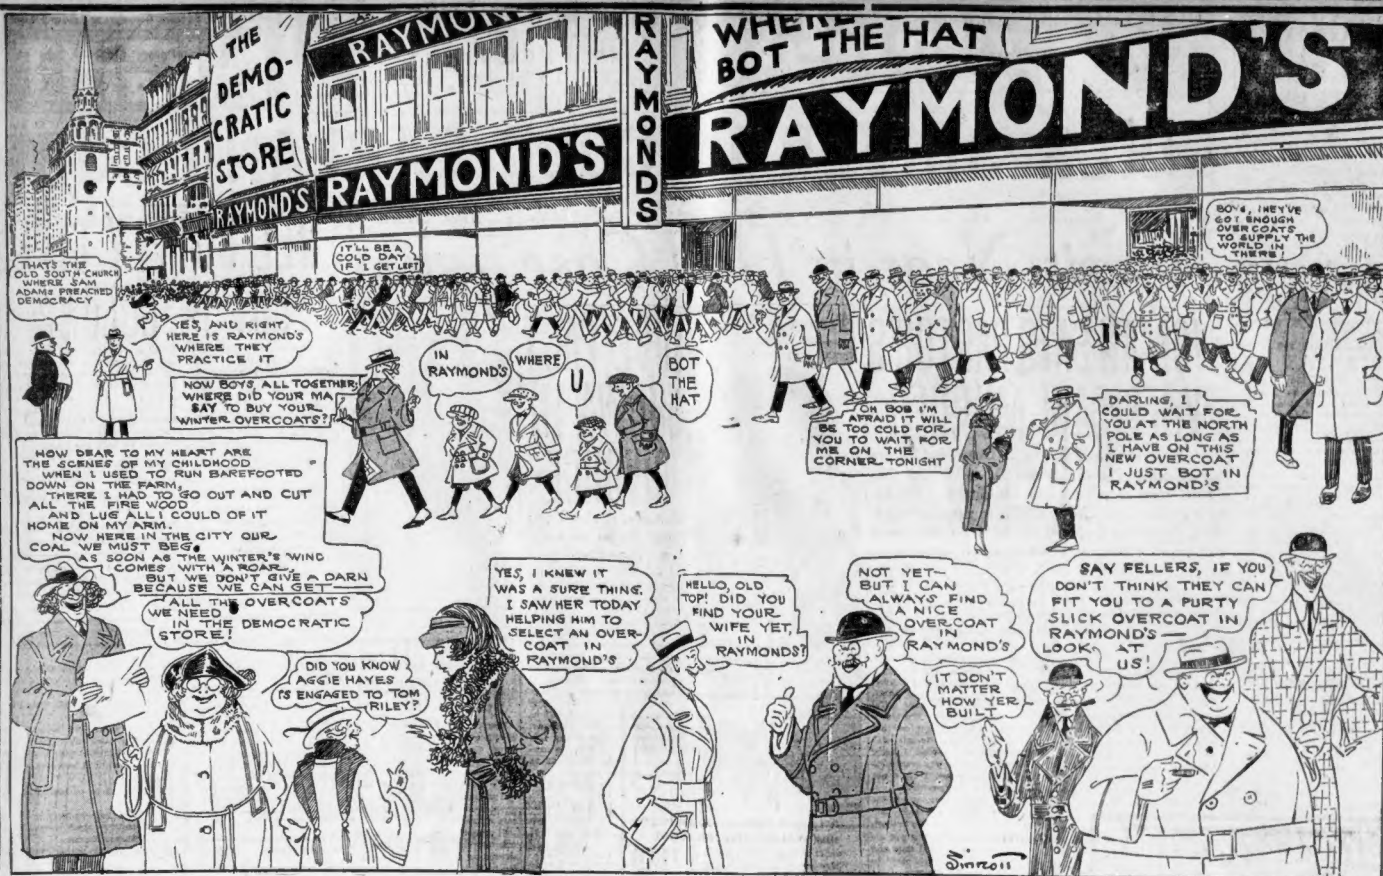

Turn Over.

AMERICANS APPEAL RACE
The following radio was sent to the international sailing committee aboard the judges' boat: "I appeal to you for a square deal for the schooner Henry Ford, twice a winner and today a crippled vessel." Signed, William J. Mahan, chairman American race committee. Bluenose turned the fourth mark at 3:24:40, a mile ahead of Ford. Ford turned the mark at 3:32:45.

GIRL SNIPS FUR COLLAR ON COAT IN SCHOOL

Beverly, Oct. 24.—(By Radio to International News Service.)—George Harvey that the Ten Commandments were made only for men. Eleanor broke the tenth. She covered Eleanor. Is, seventeen—the thick, lustrous fur collar on Elizabeth Pembroke's coat.

Eleanor used to go to High School, but ceased going after some difference about discipline.

But Elizabeth goes to high school and hangs her coat in one of the girls' cloak-rooms. Eleanor went to school Tuesday, but not to study. With shawl she slipped the fur collar from Elizabeth's coat and departed. Elizabeth told Principal E. E. Gardner, of course, and Mr. Gardner told the police.

The police learned that Eleanor had a new fur collar just like Elizabeth's. They went to the Roubin home in Hill street today and found the collar sewed neatly on Eleanor's coat. They arrested her. Later she was found guilty in Salem Court and was ordered to make restitution. Eleanor's father is a carpenter and works hard. Her mother also works to help out family income.

Harvey Stands Pat on 'Women's Souls' Speech in London

Copyright, 1922, by International News Service.

London, Oct. 24.—Despite an international storm of protest from women and clergymen in Great Britain and in America, George Harvey American Ambassador to England, stood pat today upon his declaration that the Bible gives no recognition of women having souls and that consequently they are not bound by the Ten Commandments.

"I have been besieged by telephone and letter since I made that speech, but I have nothing to add now to take away from it," declared Ambassador Harvey to International News Service.

"It was merely an after dinner speech upon a very pleasant occasion. I had prepared my speech very carefully and it represented my opinion. I do not propose to qualify it now to displease it. I am not a woman's soul," said Mr. Harvey with a smile.

ADDS 10 INCHES TO MAN'S HEIGHT BY SURGERY

Berlin, Oct. 24 (By Radio to International News Service).—An amazing scientific discovery by which as much as ten inches can be added to the height of a human being was announced here today.

Professor August Bier of Berlin University has just completed two successful experiments, both conducted through surgery. One operation was upon a woman dwarf, the other upon a man.

The operation consists in sawing through the thigh bone, after which the upper part of the leg is placed under a special extension process for a period of time averaging two months. During this time the bone regenerates, filling up the space between the disconnected parts and lengthening the thigh about five centimeters. In both cases the same operation was repeated two times within two years, thus adding fifteen centimeters altogether.

The biblical question: "Who, by taking thought, can add a single cubit to his stature?" seems to be answered by Professor Bier.

Quality

One of the reasons why the Waldorf System now has 100 stores is that the men who opened the first Waldorf lunch had this idea firmly in mind—Quality always wins. And because they have followed this idea from the start, they have succeeded in building up an organization comprised of 100 stores located in 32 different cities and serving 44 million meals a year.

They have within their organization a department that tests all samples of food sent them to see if the quality is right. Therefore, while the large purchasing power of this department enables them to buy at the lowest possible price, the question—"Is it of the Waldorf Quality?"—is uppermost in the mind of their Purchasing Agent.

From the time foodstuffs are thus considered until the moment they are placed before the customer on the counter in the form of an appetizing dish, Quality is always observed. The carrying power of a mighty beam is only as strong as its weakest point; and even a small amount of an inferior ingredient finding its way into the prepared meal would therefore lower the Quality that the Waldorf System is determined to maintain.

The foods that are eaten by the man who does heavy work for a living are given as much consideration as the lighter foods consumed by the man who works in an office. That is why you find men and women from all walks of life eating in Waldorf lunch rooms.

Why—
We are putting the New
Waldorf Seal on our Windows

Have you noticed the new seal on the windows of the Waldorf Lunches? It is a bright red apple on a gold-colored background with a green circle around it. Whenever you see this seal, you can say to yourself, "Here is a quality lunch room."

The three great fundamentals on which the success of the Waldorf is built, are Quality, Cleanliness and Service. By Quality, we mean the high grade materials used in the making of our foods and the skill of the experienced commissary men who make them; by Cleanliness we mean the painstaking care in keeping our lunch rooms spotlessly clean and a cleanliness which is further augmented through the rigid inspection of our employees by a registered physician; by Service we mean that willing, courteous treatment to which you are entitled when you enter a Waldorf Lunch.

FORMER BOSTON SURGEON IS SUICIDE

Dr. Percy Musgrave fifty-one years old, a Harvard graduate, member of a prominent New England family and former Boston surgeon, shot himself to death in his apartment at the Court Inn, Doylestown, Pa., according to dispatches received here today.

Col. Musgrave left a letter which has been turned over to Thomas Ross, an attorney of Doylestown, who refused to divulge its contents. He says it contains no intimation of the cause of the colonel's suicide, but is "purely personal." It is believed to contain directions for the disposal of his estate.

Police at Doylestown, as well as friends of the colonel, and he had many, although he was there but a short time, are completely in the dark as to his motive.

A peculiar feature is that no one in the hotel heard the shot. His wife, from whom he was separated, was Miss Edith Porter, daughter of a Harvard professor. A daughter and a son, living in Boston, also survive him. They are Eleanor and Percy. Mrs. Musgrave and her children live at No. 204 Marlborough street, Back Bay.

Although Dr. Musgrave had not lived with his family for some time, they were all in tears when news of the tragedy reached them.

The daughter, Eleanor, is a member of Back Bay society. She and the son, Percy, seemed especially affected by the news of their father's death. They could sustain no cause for the suicide, which came as a tragic surprise to them.

Dr. Musgrave, who was a lieutenant colonel in the Medical Reserve Corps, killed himself with a revolver which he carried while overseas during the war.

Dr. Musgrave was one of the original contingent of thirteen American physicians who offered their services to England before this country entered the war. He served for a time on the Ypres front, later transferring to the American army.

COFFINS OF 350 CHINESE HELD UP BY RATES

How much is a dead Chinaman worth?

Ambrose Murphy, insurance broker, wants to know. So, too, do Yee Wing Yan and Chin Ah Ton, leaders in the Chinese Consolidated Benefit Association. Yee and Chin want to insure 250 Chinese bodies from the time they are exhumed at Mount Hope Cemetery until their arrival in Hong Kong. Their religion stipulates that no Chinaman will ever meet his friends in Heaven unless buried in his native land.

So they arranged for the exhumation and the sealing of each body in a metal-lined casket and for the packing of every four cases in a big wooden box. This came the rub. All Chinatown insisted that there must be insurance. Thus far, no one has been found who can solve the question.

FORMER CLERK BUYS NOTED CASTLE

London, Oct. 24.—The newly rich continue to take over ancient country estates from Britain's old aristocracy. Pawtucket, the second largest city in Rhode Island, will have no Democratic ticket in the field in the coming election, it appeared today, when it was discovered that Peter J. New York police are probing the death of Charles S. Collican, forty-eight, Boston University graduate, who served as assistant district attorney in the Whitman regime. Collican died at Bellevue Hospital, after telling physicians he had been black-jacked. Post mortem examination disclosed he had a tumor of the brain, which may have caused hallucinations as to an attack.

This is in accordance with the Washington naval treaty. There has been much discussion, however, as to whether Great Britain would build these ships.

LOBBYIST MADE JUDGE, CHARGES FITZGERALD

Inside facts revealing manipulations by the Republican bosses both on Beacon Hill and in Washington were disclosed by John F. Fitzgerald, the Democratic candidate for Governor, in his whirlwind tour of the State.

Fitzgerald declared that the bank of the Republican party is so complete that not a single important piece of legislation is ever passed unless the bankers' lobby has freely and fully consented.

He said that the president of a Boston bank was a heavy contributor to the Republican campaign fund, and although Black Commissioner Allen was chairman that $1,000,000 of the people's money was expended.

Irene Castle, who ran afoul of the censors in Providence when she might to give an Indian dance with her legs and feet bare, thinks that any community which has to preserve its morals by prohibiting bare legs is "either depraved or silly."

FASCIST COUP EXPECTED IN ITALY

By the Associated Press.
Rome, Oct. 25.—Benito Mussolini, head of the Fascist, has called together all the military leaders of that organization and has ordered all the military sections of the Fascist to keep in readiness the 800,000 workers who have joined the Fascist organizations, ordered to co-operate at an opportune moment with the military sections.

This is interpreted here as preparation for the assumption of power by the Fascist.

London, Oct. 25.—"The official organ of the Fascist in Rome is quoted as declaring: 'We are on the eve of an important event.' The conference in Rome comes directly upon the heels of the great Fascist Congress at Naples.

Naples, Oct. 25.—"I take a solemn oath that either the government of the country must be given peace fully to the Fascist, or we will take it by force." was the farewell statement by Professor Benito Mussolini on leaving Naples.

Michele Bianchi, secretary of the Fascist, declared the party had had 800,000 members, all determined to regenerate Italy.

Honored at B. U.

MISS GERTRUDE OWENS.

Miss Gertrude Owens of Lawrence, a student in the junior class of the College of Business Administration of Boston University, was highly honored when she was the only girl of her class to be elected to the House of Representatives of the college, composed of selected delegates from the student body of 3,000 members.

Wentworth R. Perry, of Malden, also a junior, was elected as speaker for the House of Representatives, the student government association, and the student body of the college.

Of the junior class, fifteen besides Miss Owens were elected members. Fourteen sophomores were elected.

HUSBAND TRIED MATZENAUER

San Francisco, Oct. 25.—Madame Margaret Matzenauer, the Grand Opera singer who has just concluded a concert tour in this city, had a day of courtship in the city of the Golden Gate.

Appearing to give a deposition in the divorce suit brought by Floyd Glotzbach, her Monterey husband, Mrs. Matzenauer not only combated his allegations, but also sprang a number of sensational charges against her "Wild West" spouse.

She succeeded in introducing a letter which she said brought about the final break with Glotzbach and revealed that she had attempted to bring about a private settlement with Glotzbach on February 14.

PLEADED FOR MEETING.
She presented to Judge Murasky a telegram which she said she had sent Glotzbach from New York, appealing to him to meet her in Chicago. This telegram read:

"Write me immediately any arrangement if you will meet me Tuesday, February 21, Chicago, Drake Hotel. No obligation of reconciliation for you, only let us try if we cannot find a way to settle our trouble for the sake of our child. I will be alone and promise nobody will ever know. Grant me this last favor. She said she received no reply to this appeal.

She also introduced into the record a telegram purporting to have been sent to her attorney, John Godfrey Kane, in New York, March 17, 1922, in which Glotzbach threatened publicity, as follows:

"Referring to various unnamed press reports, my wife has no cause for divorce action. Will contact. Have good offer from newspaper for exclusive intimate story of facts and unless I hear from you or madame immediately will release story."

OTHER GIRL'S LETTER.

The letter that Mrs. Matzenauer declared brought about the break with her husband was introduced by her, she said, and was from Lottie Pratten of Carmel, Cal. It read:

"Dear Floyd: Well, here I am again writing and waiting to hear from you. What do you mean, any way? Remember, it is one month today since you wrote to me from Paris and tried to make me believe you were in Reno.

If you don't keep up your promise, remember I have put up nine years with you, and all I want, though, and now you have to come back and lie to me when I was feeling the same as you to suffer again.

"That don't think for a minute you will suffer, also. Now you will have to come back and take me to a doctor where I am not known. Now if you don't answer this I will not want any more feeling from you and I will write to your wife she have an idea you are in Los Angeles. Never mind, she will know your life's history if I live."

In addition to the letter, Mrs. Matzenauer claimed a check she said given her husband had come back endorsed by Lottie Pratten.

HUNT FOR COUSENS TURNS TO NEW YORK

The New York police have been asked to aid in the search for Charles W. Cousens of No. 17 Cadden street, Flushing, missing since October 15. Cousens, a clerk for the brokerage firm of Downer & Co. of this city, left his office without saying where he was going. There was an audit of his books, which revealed no shortage.

News that Cousens, who is sixty years old, was in New York, was given to the police of that city by his brother-in-law, Robert P. Tobin of East Orange, N. J.

The description of the missing man follows: Five feet seven inches tall, weight 140 pounds, somewhat bald. When last seen he wore a brown bow tie, wore short-sleeved glass suit, soft hat and brown shoes.

The girls' men board the news and held an indignation meeting. They decided to appeal to the authorities to suspend sentence.

"No girls, no game," was the slogan of some of the players.

Betty Alden Says Ialm Beach Is Likely to Lure Amorys for Winter Season

MRS. CHARLES MINOT AMORY
Mrs. Charles Minot Amory (Gladys Munn) and her family are among those making a very long season of it at the North Beach.

By BETTY ALDEN.
I HEAR that those confirmed globe-trotters, the Charles Minot Amorys, have not yet made any definite plans for the Winter, but are still lingering on at Manchester-by-the-Sea for a while. Mrs. Amory, who enjoyed a good deal of popularity in her Gladys Munn days—she is the daughter of Mrs. Charles Munn—has taken her place as one of society's most attractive matrons. Though Boston never seems to see a great deal of the Amorys for any length of time, they are always sure of a very royal welcome when they do sojourn here. Last Winter they spent at Palm Beach, and it is not unlikely that they will be there for another season to the Florida resort.

The past Summer Mr. and Mrs. Amory and their two small children have been with Mrs. Munn at her Manchester villa. Mrs. Munn, whose Winter home is in Washington, was quite seriously injured recently in a motor accident on the Shore. Mrs. Reginald Boardman (Carré Munn), a sister of Mrs. Amory's, has returned for the Winter with her family to the town house on Marlboro street. The Boardmans, who have two young sons, have a Summer place at Manchester known as "Brick House."

MRS. E. PREBLE MOWLEY, JR., has been spending a few days in New York at the Ritz-Carlton. At the same hotel are Mr. and Mrs. Walter Denney, the parents of Mr. William D. Subler Jr. (Elsie Denney). The Sublers, Jr. are receiving congratulations upon the birth of a little son born to them a little while ago.

ONE of the most stunning matrons attending the luncheon held yesterday by the Women's Republican Club of Massachusetts was Mrs. George R. Peabody, Jr., who was in charge of the affair. The former Foster Cochrane, a tall, slender woman with auburn hair, wore an extremely lovely gown of midnight blue, gorgeously beaded with iridescent blue and brown beads. She wore a simple brown satin hat, with a brown plume and veil. The gown was cut on the simplest of lines, but the entire costume was more than becoming. Her only ornament was the chain of pearls which she always wears.

Mrs. Charles Sumner Bird, as chairman of the club, presided over the luncheon. She was looking as stately as ever in a taupe-colored gown, over which she wore a sable wrap. Her feathered hat was black. Mrs. Curtis Guild was there, too, wearing a Russian mock affair with quite a bit of red and gold in it. The luncheon, held at the Hotel Brunswick, was attended by a very generous portion of Boston's families "who's who," socially speaking.

MRS. FRANCIS M. WHITEHOUSE, who always makes a long season of it at "Crownhurst," the family's Summer place at Manchester-by-the-Sea, has joined the Autumn colony at White Sulphur Springs, W. Va.

I SAW Mrs. Tom Pelham Curtis, dressed in black with touches of green, among the group of matrons and maids who served as salutes at the Army and Navy Club bazaar yesterday.

IMMENSE CROWD HEARS JOHN MCCORMACK

By FRED J. McISAAC.

John McCormack came back last night. His Irish songs attracted what was probably the largest crowd which ever tried to get into Symphony Hall, and the turn away was very much greater than the number who got inside.

McCormack, at the present moment, is the biggest concert drawing card in America. His decision to set a year without singing drew a well from all over the United States. The report that he must have lost his voice or he would not stop singing which decided him to show America by three concerts, one in New York, one in Boston and one in Chicago, that nothing of the kind had happened. And now he is back into the swing of giving concerts and he proposes to stay a while and give a score or so in various parts of the country.

ROBUST HEALTH.

McCormack is rather thinner than he was but he appears in robust health. He says he has become an addict to golf and that walking in the open air has done him good. Certainly he has not lost his voice. Poor health is almost entirely responsible for his bad singing, and the voice, vibrant and beautiful tone which the audience heard last night are best evidence that the Irish boy is better than he was.

GRAMM WELL CHOSEN.

The program was chosen with the rare skill he has always demonstrated as a maker of concerts. A bit of the old classic to display vocal art and agility, some songs in modern style and a group of the sweet old lyrics of the Green Island. There were rollicking, rollicking tunes, and enough of them. There is no mystery about this man's power to charm multitudes. He reminds a audience as well as he an art, and without committing his conscience he aims to make the folks feel good. If all concert sinners were as considerate of those who say to hear them there would be more box office cards in concert than at present.

Four hundred and twenty-five boys from House of the Angel Quir

Home and Lots of Babies for Miss Bebe Daniels

Chicago, Oct. 24.—Miss Bebe Daniels is going to take marriage seriously when she weds.

"I've been too busy trying to have a career," said Miss Daniels, "to take time seriously."

"When I do take a man that way, it's going to mean a lot. When I marry, I marry once and for all. I'm going to stick right by him and have a home and lots of children."

She hasn't seen Jack Dempsey for months, the movie star declared, adding, "He's a fine fellow as fine fellows go."

She was guests of the management of Lower's State Theatre and witnessed the entire regular performance. The real purpose of this visit to the theatre was to enable the boys to witness the showing of the Warner Brothers' super picture "Rage to Riches" in which Wesley Barry, the marvelous boy star, is featured.

GREEK PRINCE HELD IN PROBE OF DEBACLE

By the Associated Press.

Athens, Oct. 24.—The newspaper announced that Prince Andrew, brother of former King Constantine, was arrested at Corfu on the charge that he contributed to the disaster suffered by the Greek army in Asia Minor. He was brought to Athens on a destroyer and interned in the palace.

Prince Andrew commanded one of the corps of the Greek army at the Smyrna front. After the disaster to the Greek forces he went to Corfu. On Wednesday an Athens message said an investigator had been sent to Corfu by the commission in charge of the inquiry into the Greek debacle, to question Prince Andrew regarding the charge that with him was at the head of his army corps he refused to execute an order.

For the "Lady of the House"

One can suggest many gifts for the woman who entertains charmingly, and whose house gives forth good cheer and welcome to family and friends.

Candlesticks, compotes, flower bowls and vases in glass of gay hues are very attractive in living-room or hall. One shape of vase in amber, blue, or amethyst is particularly suited for large bunches of wild flowers.

Lamps made from vases or cracker pottery and other pottery have shades designed for each one. Brass candlesticks never go out of favor.

Silver suggests many possibilities. From tea and coffee services down to single spoons there are pieces to suit every taste and every purse.

In our antique department are pewter platters and plates, Waterford glass, Staffordshire figurines, old silver and china, any of which would appeal to the acquisitive instinct of the homemaker.

There is still time to order some monogram playing-cards for the bridge lover. The new English papers make letter-writing a pleasure.

Mrs. Curtis was at the antiques table with Mrs. Barrett Wendell, it was also two important buds of the season. Dorothy Hill and Katherine Hill. These two young girls are the daughters of Mr. and Mrs. George Hill and the John F. Hill, his wife, and they are to make their debut together on November 4 at a tea-dance, which their parents are giving to them at the Hotel Somerset.

In the afternoon, from 3 until 6, wafties were served, and Mrs. George W. Wheelwright, Jr. had some young girls come in to make a visit. The ballroom of the club house, which is located at No. 14 Park square, had been very effectively decorated with masses of an iridescent Autumn flowers and foliage. Mrs. Guy K. Dustin was in charge.

Haverhill, Oct. 24.—James George, for several years a grocer on Cedar street, who returned to his home in Turkey last Spring, was one of those massacred by the Turks in the sack of Smyrna, according to letters received from his wife by his cousin, Pericles Nicholas of No. 80 Lock street.

Mrs. George was wounded when the Turks swept through the city. She managed to escape to the Island of Mytilene in the Argos Sea, however, where she is now. She wrote that her husband, the father and mother, two brothers and a sister were all slain by the Turks.

BUDGET "ELITE" MILLS GOES WISELY

"Elite" Mills will lead the Dartmouth football team in its game at the Stadium Saturday.

You would have joined in the undergraduate games at Greenfield, officially christened "Elite" Mills when it was learned he had reported for football practice at Dartmouth Saturday. It was to laugh, for "Elite" had been playing league roles for the Dartmouth Dramatic Club. He is about as stout as a barrel, and when the occasion demands it, he can mimic her girlish graces sufficiently well to fool Little Eva, herself.

As we recall the Winter Carnival show last February "Elite" Mills played the part of a rollicking, teary-eyed girl who, in the third act and by reason of an overdose of monkey gland pills, became a most charming young lady of twenty.

KOTSONAROS AND MICHAELLOFF IN BIG BATTLE ON MAT

WRESTLING GIANTS IN DUEL OF HOLDS

By JACK CONWAY.

George Kotsonaros, Greek light-heavyweight champion, who has been a winning as they stick to the old Company has been declaring dividends, will try to conquer Ivan Michailoff in a final mat bout, best two falls out of three at the Grand Opera House tonight. The affair will be staged under the direction of the Old Howard management.

The Greek idol has cashed in with five victories since he hopped into Boston. And he calmly remarks that he intends to be up right on winning until he has conquered the best men in wrestling at this vision.

Kotsonaros has taken the place of Jimmy Louder as the idol of the local Greek colony. The light-heavyweight champion has his plans set for fighting a match with Renato Gardoni or George Chiles. Michailoff says Kotsonaros will get the surprise tonight. The Russian Coach is one of the hand-picked in the best of men in wrestling at this vision.

Ivan is now in perfect condition and he says he will win the Greek down to defeat tonight.

Michailoff, a Russian, will try to dispose of Mike Perano, Italian grappler in another bout which will come to a finish.

Frank Lumb, Lumbson will wrestle with Joe Pencil, Italian man, in another bout which will come to a finish. When these winners are finished, Lumbson will fight a former manager, Perano, in a final bout.

Could Tunney Take the Baiting Out of It?

Gene Tunney's demand for a bout with Battling Siki has caused the fight to start doing odd jobs. The American fighter would have to fight the conqueror of George Carver, Tunney, a youngster in the ring game, first displayed as a boxer while in the hands of the "Cinderella" of the ring.

Jack Conway Picks Kotsonaros to Win on Mat

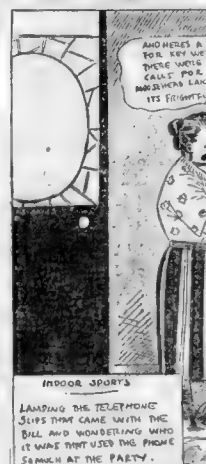

Once more Jack Conway is called upon to pick the winner of a wrestling match.

George Kotsonaros, Greek light-heavyweight champion, will win over Ivan Michailoff at the Grand Opera House tonight, says Jack. "It will be a thrilling battle, but I figure that Kotsonaros will gain the advantage. Michailoff has had more experience than his opponent and is able to do any grapple with his famous ring hold, but I believe the Greek will prove too fast for the Russian."

Jimmy Louder has not anything on Kotsonaros when it comes to wrestling class.

Travers and Suggs Should Furnish Lively Mill

The Army A. A. landed a fine attraction when it signed Chuck Suggs, New England featherweight champion, to battle Mickey Travers in a 16 round bout at the Grand Opera House next Friday night.

Travers has been one of Suggs' most consistent challengers. The question of weight, however, has kept them apart. Suggs insisted upon 125 pounds ringside.

Travers finally consented to this poundage and each boxer posted $500 with this writer for weight and appearance.

Coinciding with the resumption of football relations between Dartmouth and Harvard is the resumption of track relations between Dartmouth and Tech, and the Green's reappearance on the Crimson cross-country schedule. A formal meeting has been arranged for the cross-country men of the three institutions, which will take place at Belmont tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock.

The triangular race on the eve of the Harvard-Dartmouth football game will be all the more interesting and more significant in connection with the resumption of the track relations of the three New England colleges.

Dartmouth's barriers have not been completely broken in connection with the resumption of the track relations of the three New England colleges.

Robert S. Hendrie, a veteran long distance man, is leader of the Tech's cross-country team. Tech's strength has been increased this year by the return of Roger E. Schorn, last year's captain when the Alumnus' Council, which has been in charge of the team, was disbanded.

Tech's entrants in tomorrow's race, besides Hendrie and Schorn, are: J. H. Tupper, captain of last year's team; E. W. Gardner, J. E. Holt, W. E. Kellner, R. E. Robinson, L. H. Poirer, G. E. Robinson and P. J. Locke.

Following the triangular race, the engineers will journey to Princeton on November 1 to meet the Tigers in a dual encounter. This is the first time the two institutions will meet since the beginning of a long series of engagements with the Tigers.

Referring to the declaration by Boston police official that they wouldn't stop women from wearing trousers on Boston's staid streets, Ruth Alexander finds the new trouser fad a comfortable mode and she intends to wear 'em to work. "They keep my ankles warm," she says. The style, originated in New York, reveals the trousers through a slit in the skirt. Said Boston police official: called the fad quite ingenious.

LARGEST ELECTRIC SIGN EVER ERECTED IN BOSTON TO BLAZE FORTH THE BRILLIANCE OF "WHEN KNIGHTHOOD WAS IN FLOWER!" This enormous sign will grace the front of the Park Theatre, where the wonderful film spectacle opens tonight. An idea of the great size of the display can be gained by a comparison with the workmen on the ladder. Some of the letters are five feet high and the larger contain more electric light bulbs than the average dwelling. It is constructed of sheet iron and is the last word in the creation of incandescent illumination. On the interior of the theatre the deft and colorful hand of Josef Urban has been spreading soft gloom and a cheerful atmosphere for the opening.

FORBES' VIEWS ON FINANCE

By R. C. Forbes

I'm this week making my first visit to Detroit. The entire lot of things that were in my mind I can help you to learn some things that are not about this unique city.

Read these facts and figures: Detroit was the first of the great cities to build the collapse of the very first boom and one of the very first to come back. Today it is enjoying prosperity.

Automobile output this year is making the best record of the war boom.

The number of workers employed almost matches the 1920 mark.

Steel companies covering the first half of last year and the year have been prepared to work. Steel, statistics of the Board of Commerce, 1922.
